

Nicolas Moyer

Vice-president

Nicolas has been CEO of the Canadian Council for International Co-operation (CCIC) since August 2018. Founder and former Executive Director of the Humanitarian Coalition, Nicolas is passionate about humanitarian and development aid policy, advocacy and government relations. Driven by a commitment to social justice, he began his international development career in Ethiopia. He has founded and led coalitions, launched dozens of multi-platform fundraising and communications campaigns, and raised tens of millions of dollars to help survivors of humanitarian disasters.

Nicolas holds degrees in economics (Université de Montréal), international relations (MacQuarie University, Australia), and an MBA (Queen's University). In 2016, he was named to the Ottawa Chamber of Commerce and the Ottawa Business Journal's Top 40 Under Forty list.
